“My grades are competitive for university admissions”

(a) I know my choices

- Explore talent development programmes at the local AUs (e.g. NUS College, NTU Premier Scholars Programmes)
- Explore Scholarships, Financial assistance
 - Refer: Brightsparks, Scholarship Guide, SgIS, Scholars' Choice
 - Apply together with university application
- Prepare for application

b) I'm still unsure of my choices

- Visit University Open Houses
- Use “Factors” (Guide 1) to guide course exploration
 - What are the subjects or activities you enjoy and/or do well in? (Strengths/Interests)
 - What are your future career and educational aspirations?
- Discuss your options with your parents, teachers or ECCG

Factors to consider when selecting a university/course

(applicable to overseas/private universities or similar)

Guide 1

Comparing Universities:

1. What kinds of courses are available?
2. What is the learning environment and experience like?
3. How will the university prepare me for life beyond the university?
4. What are the professors and co-educators like?
5. Who are the alumni?
6. Does the university recognise my talents and needs?
7. What are the employment and postgraduate outcomes of the graduates?

I have a course in mind, but I'm not sure if I can get in

“I have a course in mind, but I’m not sure if I can get in”

What you can do

☐ Applying with a course in mind:

- ☐ Consider applying using Aptitude-Based Admissions
- ☐ Consider similar programs offered by OTHER local universities
- ☐ Consider SUSS Part Time degree programmes (2 A-level passes)
- ☐ Explore other less competitive university courses to enter desired industry/career

☐ Consider similar courses/careers: Research on other careers within same industry or a different industry with similar values, traits, skills; Find out what are their education requirements.

“I have a course in mind, but I’m not sure if I can get in”

What you can do

- Consider other Education Pathways – refer to “What’s Next” slide (Guide 2)
 - Arts Institutions (Able to demonstrate Artistic Potential and creativity)
 - Polytechnic (With relevant A-level subjects may get “advance standing”)
 - SUSS part-time degree

I am not sure if I can get into any university course

“I am not sure if I can get into any university course”

If you:

- ☐ Fail a subject: Confirm requirements of each University
 - ☐ Fail 1 H2: Some universities require only 2 H2 passes
 - ☐ Fail GP: Can apply, but will not qualify for certain courses (e.g. Law)
 - ☐ Fail MTL: Can apply, need to fulfil MTL requirement before graduation
- ☐ have non-competitive UAS: Consider the options under “I have a course in mind, but I’m not sure if I can get in” & refer to “What’s Next” slide (Guide 2)

SHOULD I CONSIDER POLY?

New through-train route for poly students to get university degree and find work in shorter time

Temasek Polytechnic students Cecilia Soh and Kenneth Lim will be taking up the through-train work-study programme.

Polytechnic graduates have benefited from the expansion in the number of university places. The Ministry of Education said there were a record 17,000 spots last year at the six local universities, with the cohort participation rate reaching almost 40 per cent. ST FILE PHOTO

20, who is hoping to study law at Singapore Management University (SMU), said: "When I chose to go to poly despite qualifying for junior college, my parents were really worried. But seeing the increasing number of poly students making it to SMU's competitive courses, I think I stand a fairly good chance."

Traditionally, the junior college is seen as the most secure route to a degree. Previous years' figures show that more than 70 per cent of A-level holders enter the local universities each year. Ms Doreen Tan, 20, who wants to become a physiotherapist, is glad that SIT now offers the degree programme. "I don't have to worry about having to go overseas and going into debt," said Ms Tan, whose widowed mother works as a hotel housekeeper. Asked about the future university prospects of polytechnic graduates, Education Minister Ng Yee Kung, in an interview with The Straits Times, revealed that the Government needs to rethink how it plans for university places. He said the cohort participation rate will be increased to 50 per cent but, going forward, it may not make sense to plan using hard numbers as the Government wants all Singaporeans to reach their full potential. sandra@sph.com.sg

Ranking of course choices (single degree)

Published 09/01/2006 09:55 AM | Updated 15/10/2020 12:28 PM

I can select several courses in the application form for admission. How do I rank the choice of courses I wish to be considered?

Applicants will be considered for admission based on their preferred course choices ranked from first to last choice, i.e. if an applicant does not meet the admission criteria for his first choice, he will be considered for his second choice and so on. However, this excludes the following courses:-

1) Medicine, Dentistry and Law - besides meeting course prerequisites, applicants are required to rank these courses within the first and second choice to be considered for shortlisting for test/interview. (the only exception granted is when applicants place Law as their third choice with Medicine and Dentistry as their first two choices.)

2) Architecture, Industrial Design, Landscape Architecture and Nursing - besides satisfying course prerequisites, applicants are required to rank these courses within the top 3 choices in order to be considered.

3) Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) Programme - Applicants are required to submit their application essay to PPE Direct Entry Portal (<https://www.fas.nus.edu.sg/ppe.html>) by the stipulated deadline

Under the first choice bonus points scheme, no bonus points will be awarded to interview-based courses if they are ranked as first choice. Admissions to these courses are dependent on the outcome of interviews and/or aptitude tests.

Tip: Visit the FAQ page of each university (if available) for the latest updates relevant to their admissions
