THE SINGAPORE ASSOCIATION FOR THE DEAF

Through this two-week internship with The Singapore Association For the Deaf (SADeaf), we assisted in the planning of events for the Deaf and Blind, and learned how to work more effectively as a team. We had the opportunity to learn sign language and braille, which was an eye-opening experience! One of our most memorable experiences was interacting with the Deaf and Blind as well as observing how social workers support them, allowing us to understand the importance of social work in our community.

Another interesting experience was sitting in for the Video Relay Service (VRS) demonstration. It showcased how technology can be used to assist the Deaf community in communication by having sign interpreters within reach.

Overall, this internship was a wonderful experience interacting and working with the Deaf and Blind. It also broadened our horizons as we don't usually get to interact with social workers, exposing us to different career paths for our future.
